

BOLDROCCHI

ESTABLISHED IN 1909

Dear business partners,

We hope that you and your families are staying safe and healthy in these difficult times.

Following several weeks of lock-down, our facilities are open again. We are not yet at full capacity, as we are respecting COVID restrictions, but we anticipate returning to full capacity in the near future.

The health and safety of our employees, their families and our community are paramount to our company. For this reason, some of our colleagues are still working from home and our workshop schedule has been structured to grant the social distancing and hygiene necessary to keep our employees safe.

Thanks to the collaboration of our team, we have been able to minimize the impact COVID has had on our day-to-day business operations.

Boldrocchi's customer service team is ready to serve you. We have extensive online collaboration capabilities to help ensure business continuity.

We are all facing a truly unprecedented situation and we want to let you know that, at this challenging time, you can count on Boldrocchi to support your business.

Please do not hesitate to reach out to Boldrocchi HQ or our offices worldwide with any additional questions and concerns.

Sincerely,

Marco Bailo
